

School Store Reopening Soon!!!

By Grace & Katie

Last year, Annie's class opened the first Merriam school store. Annie's class decided to do this for their service learning and it helps with their math. This year they are doing it again. The school store is at the bottom of the big staircase on the ground floor. It is on open Thursday mornings. Every Thursday students from 2 or 3 classes can go down to the school store. It also helps with their math.

At the school store they sell lots of school supplies. They have a new product this year. They are selling take-a-part erasers. They also sell travel size games and jet balls. All of the prices are less than two dollars. During the school hours the kids in Annie's class work in groups of 2 or 3 at the store. One person works the cash register and the other helps the customers.

We interviewed kids from Annie's class about the store. We asked them what their favorite part of doing the store was. Jana said, "My favorite part is helping people get stuff." Maxfield said, "I like to pick up the products." Then, we asked them what their favorite product is that they sell. Maxfield said, "I have always liked the jetballs." Maxfield also likes the long $100 bill pencils. Jana likes a lot of the products and she doesn't have a favorite.

So remember, the school store reopens soon! We would also like to thank Annie's class for this service.
