

“If you don’t make mistakes, you’re not working on hard enough problems.
And that’s a big mistake.”

Last Wednesday was our 5th annual project Wellness Day and it was a glorious success. Over the course of a beautiful albeit chilly, day, parent after parent stopped to share their great satisfaction with the quality of the presenters. And over the course of the week, parent continued to share the value of the conversations held with their child on the way home that afternoon. I hope these discussions are just the beginning of more frequent and meaningful conversations with your young adults.

As I have stated before, the planning for Project Wellness begins in September and takes untold hours. I would specifically like to give special recognition to two members of this committee for whom this will be their last year. Celeste Margolius and Dave Peters have worked on Project Wellness since its inception 6 years ago. They have given their blood, sweat, and tears in taking an idea of helping parents and children enhance their communication and making it an RJG tradition. Their humor, ideas, and energy will be sorely missed in the coming years.

This years Project Wellness Committee also included the commitment and talents of the following people: Jan Couch, Jon Duclos, Margaret Gibbs, Megan Hatt, Susan Horn, Carolyn Imperato, Celeste Margolius, Linda Minkoff, David Peters, and Chris Renzi. Without their time and efforts, this wonderful event would not have gotten off the ground.

And last but not least, we could not have run Project Wellness without the help of the following parent and guardian volunteers: Peggy Barach, Janice Boyce, Julie Cates, Janet Chinitz, Ann Decker, Jean Doelp, Karen Donoghue, Sharon Duquette, Suzanne Flannery, Susan Flynn, LeeAnn Gilligan, Brad Hardie, Dana Hartman, Ginger Hobson, Carol Knowles, Sue Lentricchia, Sally Lewis, Lyn Malloy, Bonnie Maserang, Nancy Meagher, Linda Minkoff, Pam Rogers, Faith Szydlo, and Sally Wood.

Thank you to everyone!

This coming Friday is our next 7th grade Social. Tickets will go on sale in homeroom and will not be sold at the door. As always, our dances are for RJG students only.

Have a great week!
