I hope that all our A-B moms had a wonderful Mother’s Day in recognition of all the special things you do for your children day in and day out.

I want to thank the students, parents, and guardians of RJG for their cooperation with the school dress code. I have noticed that our students are making a conscious effort to choose attire that reflects their individuality within the guidelines of the school. Thank you!

The last round of MCAS testing is upon us. As always, student attendance is essential during these testing sessions as is a healthy amount of sleep and a good breakfast. Please note the schedule outlined below:

Monday, May 11th

Questionnaire
8th Grade Math Session 1
8th Grade Math Session 2

Tuesday, May 12th

7th Grade Math Session 1 & 8th Grade Science Session 1
7th Grade Math Session 2 & 8th Grade Science Session 2

Wednesday, May 13th – Friday, May 15th

Make-ups

Tuesday evening, at 7:30 PM, many of our 7th and 8th graders will be performing in the Spring Band Concert. They have been practicing all year, and it promises to be the best show yet. You won’t want to miss it!

While the students and staff of RJG create and maintain an unquestionably supportive and respectful community, I’m sorry to say that we recently have had a small number of iPods stolen from student lockers inadvertently left unlocked. While we are continuing to investigate this situation, the best way to ensure the safety of private property is for students to double check that their lockers are locked. Parents and guardians, please remind your children to take the extra few seconds to lock their lockers every time they use it.

Have a good week.
